FASTER PASSENGERS, BETTER MAIL AND EXPRESS SERVICE PROVIDED IN NEW SCHEDULE ON PENNSYLVANIA R. R.

Morning Train Will Leave Tyrone Twenty-Five Minutes Earlier in Morning and Schedule is Reduced Twenty-Four Minutes. Train Will Arrive Here at 10:35 A. M. Express Train Will Remain on Division Permanently.

NEW SCHEDULE IS EFFECTIVE MARCH 7

For some time the Clearfield Chamber of Commerce and other business interests of Clearfield and other towns along the Tyrone division of the Pennsylvania Railroad have been urging better mail, express and passenger service for this community and they finally requested the Pennsylvania to put on a through train from Tyrone to Curwensville. The following letter gives notice of a change of schedule which will prove very beneficial to the people of this community and the other towns represented along the division. There does not seem to be a disposition on the part of the business people to press their demands for a new train at this time, they having full knowledge of the general condition of things at this time. The new schedule will be very much appreciated and Superintendent Johnston has the thanks of the community for his interest in the matter. We have not forgotten our plea for that new train, but under the circumstances we appreciate this change for the better.

Tyrone, Pa., Feb. 25, 1921.

William I. Betts, president,
Clearfield Chamber of Commerce,
Clearfield, Penna.

Dear Sir:
Referring to your letter of November 12, 1920, enclosing a copy of a resolution adopted November 9, 1920, by the Clearfield Chamber of Commerce requesting certain additional passenger train service between Tyrone and Grampian; also to the meeting which the writer had with the committee appointed by you to present this matter on Nov. 17, and to various other correspondence had on this subject:

I have been advised that it has been arranged to make the special American Railway Express train, which was put on between Tyrone, Grampian and Madera to take care of the holiday trade, a regular daily, except Sunday, train between these points, leaving Tyrone at 8:50 a. m., arriving at Grampian at 11:45 a. m., leaving Madera at 2:30 p. m. and arriving at Tyrone at 4:30 p. m. This train will handle American Railway express exclusively and is not a passenger train. It is hoped our patrons in the Clearfield region will give this train their patronage to warrant its retention in the service.

Effective Monday, March 7, 1921, the schedule of train No. 6402, at present scheduled to leave Tyrone at 8:45 a. m., will be changed as follows:

Leave Tyrone	8:20 A. M.
Osceola Mills	9:27 A. M.
Philipsburg	9:45 A. M.
Clearfield	10:35 A. M.
Curwensville	10:55 A. M.
Arrive Grampian	11:10 A. M.

The train will also make the same intermediate stops as under the present schedule. With the permanent establishment of the American Railway Express train we are, therefore, able to reduce the schedule time of train No. 6402 between Tyrone and Grampian to two hours and fifty minutes.

This service, we hope, will be satisfactory to your people, as the morning passenger train will leave Tyrone 25 minutes earlier and the schedule time will be reduced 24 minutes by eliminating the delays at stations which formerly occurred to this train due to the handling of great quantities of railway express.

As to the request to have Mail Line train No. 37 make a flag stop at Tyrone to discharge passengers which was also embodied in the resolution above mentioned: The management cannot see its way clear to stop this train at Tyrone for the reason that it is a very heavy train with a fast schedule and as Tyrone is one of the hardest places to start a heavy westbound train it would be difficult to make up the detour which would occur in stopping at this point.

I believe you will agree with us that on account of the great financial depression over the entire country at the present time and the various railroads taking off passengers trains everywhere, the new arrangement as above outlined is the very best that could be expected under the circumstances. I would, therefore, request that you publish the above schedule among your members so that it becomes generally known before it becomes effective.

Very truly yours,

J. K. JOHNSTON,
Superintendent.

PROMINENT RUBBER MANUFACTURER IS TARGET OF WOMAN

Chicago, March 1.—Mrs. Isabelle C. Orthwein today shot and killed Herbert Zeigler, manager of the Goodrich Tire and Rubber Company here, in her apartments in the fashionable Gold Coast district. Zeigler leaves a wife and 16 year old daughter. Mrs. Orthwein told the police Zeigler has been keeping company with her since she divorced her husband, who is a resident of St. Louis, six months ago.

He is stockholder in one of the St. Louis baseball clubs and an oil king. The trouble started, she said, when Zeigler broke an engagement to take her out to dinner last night.

"He told me there was a meeting of the stockholders of the Goodrich Tire and Rubber Company and couldn't take me to dinner."

"He brought another man who gave his name as D. O. Parsons to take me out last night and I went with him."

Parsons, according to the woman's story, took her to a cafe. "I saw Zeigler with two other women there. An argument started and several bottles were thrown between the two tables." Mrs. Orthwein told Zeigler not to come to see her again. Early today she said Zeigler tried to gain entrance to her apartment by the back door but could not open it as it was locked. He then went to the front door and "I told him I would shoot him if he came in, and I then went to my bed room and

HON. BENJ. F. CHASE GOES TO TRONDHJEM

Hon. Benjamin F. Chase, former United States consul at Costa Rica, was notified by the State Department today that he had been selected as American consul at Trondhjem, Norway, with direction to proceed at once to his post.

Trondhjem is the ancient capital of Norway. It is a seaport on the west coast situated on a bay at the mouth of the Nid. The trade consists chiefly in exports of timber, dried and salted fish, tar and copper. Population, 45,335.

locked the door. He kept pounding and pounding and would not leave. I became frightened and went and got my revolver and opened the front door and shot him. He was shot three times when the police found him. He died instantly. Mrs. Orthwein in her excitement had knocked the receiver of the telephone off the hook and the operator heard the shots. She notified the police who at once hurried to the apartment and found the woman weeping over the dead body of Zeigler.

Saw Speeding Cargoes of Human Freight Plunge Together Knowing That Scores Would Be Killed.

DEATH LIST MOUNTS TO 42

Porter, Ind., March 1.—Charles Whitehead, telegraph operator in the signal tower which regulates the passage of the trains over the crossing where a New York Central train Sunday night smashed into the side of a Michigan Central train, killing more than 40, last night for the first time gave his version of the events preceding and during the collision.

He substantiated the statement of Joe Cook, operator of the 66 levers in the tower, that the signals were set against the Michigan Central train and exonerated Cook for any blame for the disaster.

Whitehead, too unstrung to talk connectedly Sunday night, was back at his job last night, outwardly calm. His eyes, deep set from lost sleep, repeatedly darted back and forth from one track to the other.

"I send and receive all messages," he said. "I have nothing to do with the operation of the signals and am not considered in any way responsible for them."

"Ordinarily a man named Piering runs the levers, but he took the night off and hired Joe Cook, who is a substitute operator, to work for him."

"Because of the mass of switches, detours and the intersections, both of us must be on our toes all the time, and we were last night."

"Far down each track is an appliance which rings a bell in the tower when a train hits it. Last night when we heard the bell we saw it was the New York Central. About 30 seconds later the Michigan Central bell rang. Joe set the signals against the Michigan Central and opening the tracks for the New York Central. We sat looking at the New York Central tracks watching the headlights growing larger and larger. We had not noticed the Michigan Central."

"The New York Central engine grew larger and until finally its outlines were visible. Suddenly I heard Joe shout:

"By God, the M. C. is coming through the block."

"I can still hear that shouted warning."

"I turned quickly to the right and there not 150 feet away was the Michigan Central No. 20 crashing down at 60 miles an hour. It was so close I could see the spaces between the fender bars. Joe jumped for the door and I jumped after him."

"We heard a terrific grinding smash. There was a hiss of steam, a brilliant red glare lighting up the tower and our little building shook all over. The crash of glass—the lower windows—winked in my eyes and the tower continued to rock."

"We lay against the doors for a moment, and then collapsed to the floor. Later, a few seconds later, I suppose, Joe got up and dashed down stairs. I followed him."

"When I reached the ground Joe was running full speed up the road to Chesterton, two miles away. I am told he never stopped until he reached there, although several persons tried to halt him."

Porter, Ind., March 1.—Forty-two bodies had been collected early yesterday morning from the wreck Sunday night when the Canadian and Interstate Limited on the Michigan Central and the New York Central Lines, respectively, crashed at a crossing. It was a diamond shaped crossing, permitting the New York train which hit as the other sprawled, derailed, across the intersection, to take two Michigan Central cars instead of cutting them at right angles.

Railroad officials and Coroner Seipel of Valparaiso had almost given up hopes of identifying half a dozen of the bodies. Entrance of the little back room of the undertaker's chapel was barred to all except a few who were able to show they could assist in identification.

The forward coaches of the New York Central train, which was west-bound, lay upon the splintered coaches of the Michigan Central train, through which it had plowed while traveling at nearly 50 miles an hour.

Towerman Declares Signals Correct. A statement by Towerman J. C. Cook on duty at the crossing, declared the block two miles away was set against the Michigan Central train, while the track was left clear for the New York Central. Railroad

SUPREME COUNCIL HEARS GERMANY'S REPARATION PLAN

While France Moves Artillery to Front in Preparation for Enforcement of Terms.

CRISIS IS NEAR

LONDON, March 1.—The Allied Supreme Council suddenly adjourned today after hearing the German offer of reparation. Premier Lloyd George was reported to have listened to the offer in amazement and to have remarked that if the proposal was the best Germany could offer the conference might as well be called off. Another session will be held at 4 p. m.

REPARATIONS SITUATION
* Allies demand $55,000,000,000, payable in 42 years and 12 per cent tax on German exports.
* Germany offers $7,200,000,000 payable at the rate of $240,000,000 annually for five years. A new system to be signed thereafter.
* Suggested penalty is for France to seize additional German territory and Great Britain to seize the Big German ports.

By JOHN DE GANDT

PARIS, March 1.—Preliminary steps for the execution of military plans devised by the Allies to force German obedience to the reparation demands were taken today. For the first time in two years trucks of long snouted guns were seen moving. The guns were ready for immediate service if needed. There were renewed signs of life in the big army camps. Aside from the activities of the trucks there was no information regarding the French plans. It was known that that nation had been given permission by the other Allies to act on her own initiative in compelling Germany to meet the Allied terms. It was also stated authoritatively that complete plans for the truck movement had been drawn up by Marshal Foch and submitted to the British military leaders in London. These plans were said to designate definite points to be occupied by the invaders of German soil.

London, March 1.—Allied leaders will meet at 4 p. m. to consider the penalty to be meted out to Germany for not meeting the reparation demands, it was officially announced today following the first session with the German delegates. After Von Simons had offered informally, the German counter proposals, the Allies refused to hear the experts who were prepared to tell how much Germany could afford to pay.

It was officially announced that Simons ignored the Allied demand for a 12 per cent tax on German exports for the benefit of the Allies. The German offer is nominally $7,200,000,000 and the Allies demand $55,000,000,000.

It was announced the Allies will meet the German delegates again tomorrow.

After hearing the offer Premier Lloyd George said "Germany appears to completely misunderstand the realities of the demand. The Allies have already agreed upon their demands and any other is totally unacceptable."

Washington, March 1.—The apparent approach of a European crisis today caused Republican leaders to perfect plans for the withdrawal of the last vestige of American participation soon after March 4.

WORTH IT, BY HECK

Washington, March 1.—The election of Harding, Coolidge and the Republican Congress last November cost $8,100,739.21, the senate committee on campaign expenses reported today. The defeated Democrats spent $2,237,770.71.

Officials at the scene of the wreck said Engineer W. F. Long, of Jackson, Mich., who escaped unhurt, declared he had received a clear signal and had checked it with his fireman. He left early yesterday for his home.

INDOOR CARNIVAL AT IRVONA RAIDED BY THE SHERIFF

Find Paddle Wheels, Chance Games and Other Illegal Pastimes Going at Full Blast On Boy Custom.

FOUR OWNERS ARRESTED

A small chunk of a disbanded carnival got itself into a large chunk of trouble up at Irvona last evening when Sheriff Gorman swooped down on the outfit, closed up shop, or the "bazaar" as it was styled, and yanked the four men in charge down to Clearfield on this morning's train.

The little indoor carnival or "bazaar" at Coalport a couple of weeks ago, and finding the picking real good in that section, moved down to Plain City last week and traded slim chances for money with the easy marks thereabouts.

This week the outfit slipped down to Irvona and set up shop. They were running several blanket, d-d and dog wheels, while the ancient and honorable "old army game" beckoned to the sporty guy willing to take a chance. In addition there to a bunch of kids were shooting at packages of cigarettes for 10 cents a throw.

An Irvona boy is said to have dropped a considerable sum of money at the "army game" and his father getting wrathful over the affair called the attention of the county authorities to the palpable violations of the law. Sheriff Gorman, who happened to be at Coalport on business, was apprised of the situation and quietly dropped in to Irvona last evening.

In company with the complainant the sheriff visited the "bazaar" and found the gambling games already enumerated in full blast with an army of kids banging away at the cigarette packs in an effort to hit the one which had a dollar bill wrapped around it.

Information was made before Squire J. A. Green against Edgar Stewart Corey, George Allen, N. J. Jones and G. Lukens, who were in charge of the outfit, charging them with maintaining gambling devices, and in default of $500 bail they were committed to jail by the justice and Sheriff Gorman brought them to Clearfield this morning.

The defendants entered pleas of guilty before Judge Bell this morning and sentence was suspended on them inasmuch as they were non-residents and presumably would leave the county. The suspension was made also upon their paying $250 to the sheriff for costs and the use of the county and agreeing to have the gambling devices destroyed under the direction of the sheriff.

DUBOIS POKER DEN CLOSED SATURDAY AND OWNERS TAKEN

District Attorney Orders Raid After Local City Authorities Fail to Close Up Nuisance.

CAUGHT RED HANDED

Sheriff Gorman, Deputy Sheriff Gilhland, Corporal Mannion and a couple of his state policemen, slipped quietly over to DuBois Saturday evening and pulled the alleged gambling den of Patsy and Angelo Carmelli, located on one of the main streets of the town.

The raid was ordered by District Attorney Arnold following receipt of a large number of complaints against this and other places over there from DuBois citizens. The district attorney has troubles enough of his own attending to the general criminal business of the county and believes in the fullest measure of "home rule" when it comes to any community looking after its local conditions and complaints, but when the transmission of these complaints back to the local authorities at DuBois didn't seem to bring the answer, and the complaints continued to pour in, the district attorney acquainted the sheriff with the state of affairs at DuBois and he made Saturday night's visit for the purpose of demonstrating to the local authorities how it could be done and to break up this allowed den.

The two Carmellos, alleged proprietors of the place, and 11 frequenters of the place were taken in the raid. Two poker games were going in full swing and the gamblers were caught red-handed in the act. They were all placed under bail for court, the Carmellos as proprietors and the others as witnesses.

LIBRARY PROVES EXPENSIVE TO DUBOIS CITY

Directors Come Into The Court To Compel The City Council To Vote Two Mills for Support.

NEED $10,000 YEARLY SUM

Judge Bell handed down an opinion this morning in which he declared the DuBois city council to be fully within its rights in its action in the library millage matter and directing that the mandamus proceedings be quashed.

The City of DuBois established a public library in 1920 under an Act of Assembly passed by the Pennsylvania Legislature at the 1919 session. Under the terms of this Act the City Council was empowered to lay a tax of not more than 2 mills for support of the library by direction of the voters at an election held for the purpose of setting an expression on the public library proposition.

At the very last year cost the city $7,000 and the directors in charge found that amount of money inadequate for their use, asked the council when fixing the tax rate for 1921, to lay a 2 mill tax for library purposes, or the limit under the permission given by the voters at the election. The directors stated that $10,000 was necessary to maintain the library for the year, but Council felt that inasmuch as $2300 of the amount used in 1920 was for installing the library, buying furniture, etc., the library ought to get by with even a little less than last year and fixed the millage for 1921, at 1 1/4 mills, which under present valuations would net approximately $6357.

The library association objected to this curtailment, demanded that the full 2 mill tax be levied and when council refused, Attorney Pentz, who is also one of the directors of the library, came into court and asked for a mandamus to compel the city council to levy the required 2 mill tax.

The Council directed City Solicitor Gleason to move to have the mandamus quashed and argument was held before Judge Bell yesterday morning on the motion to quash.

Mr. Pentz made the argument to sustain the mandamus and compel the 2 mill levy. In the course of his argument he let it be known that a whole lot of things are wrong with the body politic in and around the city by the Sandy. He said the library was inadequately financed; that they had but 3500 volumes when they should have 20,000 on their shelves; that while the people by a 3 to 1 vote had decided in favor of a 2 mill tax, which would net them their required $10,000, council refused to give them as much as they had last year, and even refused to give them a hearing on the needs of the institution.

He took up the statement of Solicitor Gleason as to the increased cost of the other departments of the city and denounced the Public Safety Department by saying "it was surely rotten enough and that if it were possible to make it more efficient with more funds they would gladly allow some of the library funds to be diverted for that purpose." He charged that the funds of the Water Department were being illegally diverted in other channels, with an increase in rates to the individual consumer, because the water supply was being largely used in private illicit stills for the purpose of cooling the "home brew" liquor being produced promiscuously.

Mr. Pentz stated that the library was needed as an adjunct to the schools of the town. That at present the school board would be required to pay from $1,000 to $2,000 for books for their reading courses and he didn't know where the money was to come from as the school district was taxed to the limit with 25 mills regular and the $5 personal tax allowed by law. Despite this heavy tax on them they were able to pay their teachers, but beggarly salaries, even though

C. H. S. GIRLS ARE BASKETBALL STARS AS WELL AS BOYS

Took Game From Tyrone Last Friday Night and Tyrone Had Met Defeat Only Once This Season.

ALWAYS PLAY FINE GAME

The basket ball season for Tyrone possesses no idol any more. Friday evening saw the passing of the last greatness attained by local teams. The girls of the High school were the only team, locally, who had not been defeated on the home floor, but now that happened last evening, when Clearfield High gave them a defeat that must cause mortification upon contemplation. The score was 16 to 6, but the outstanding feature of the affair was that Tyrone, which did not obtain one field goal; in fact it was, as the boys say, "a skunk" for the 6 points credited to Tyrone were all resultant from foul goals, which Miss Morrow obtained by cover arm.

The influence of the sport is still noticeable. Camouflage was one of the "arts" developed and it is showing an influence on manners. It is poor taste, they say, to show disapproval of another individual. One must not, you know, tell another of any fault. You are supposed to camouflage your actions, also your thoughts, suppress any harsh thoughts and be lovely.

They say, some do, that it is "a case majeste" to criticize the playing of any home team; that their playing is always all right, but if they lose, perchance, it is "hard luck," "ill fortune" or the fault of the referee. But when you have a game in which none of these elements enter therein, then in order to explain the defeat of the home team it is necessary to extol the playing of the visitors. And such those girls from Clearfield High did play; they passed the ball like veterans; they had a system of play; they could shoot like a man. Seven field goals they rang up and several of them were difficult ones. Miss Geppert was a super-star; she played extremely well and was ably supported by the centre, Miss Fitch. The two guards, Misses Baker and Butler, were really super-guards, which is attested unto by the pathetic fact that Tyrone's forwards failed to get a single basket. Clearfield was far superior to Tyrone, at least they were last evening. Comparison of the teams was all in favor of Clearfield.

When the home team fails to get a goal from the field, little can be said of their playing. The details: Miss Gardiner R.F. Miss Geppert Miss Barr L.F. Miss Richards Miss Weston C. Miss Belsh Miss Gingery Miss Morrow L.G. Miss Baker Miss Campbell L.G. Miss Butler Field Goals—Miss Geppert 4, Miss Belsh 3. Foul Goals—Miss Geppert 2 out of 7; Miss Morrow, 5 out of 11. Referee—Sharkey of Tyrone.

TWO HOLDUPS AT OSCEOLA REPORTED

Several holdup men are operating up around Osceola. According to our information Mike Beleski and Walter Rodzimak, of Spike Island, while on their way home from town Sunday night at 9 o'clock were held up in the Firemen's Park by four men, two holding revolvers in their face, and relieved of $26 and $4, respectively.

Two weeks ago another man was held up in the same place and forced to hand over $50.

IT WORKED WONDERFULLY

Have you noticed the number of cases coughing this Spring, caused by an irritated condition in the chest, bronchial tubes, or throat? This coughing is relieved by a few doses of Dr. J. C. Henry and Son, Mrs. Anna E. Henry, 419 Western Ave., Covington, La., writes: "Your cough medicine worked wonderfully. The first day I heard him! Good for all sorts of coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and grip coughs."

SLIM'S GOES RIGHT TO THE ACING SPOT

You can just tell by its healthy, stimulating odor, that it is going to do you good. THOUSANDS of men and women, when the back hille rheumatic "crick" assailed them, have Sloan's Liniment handy to knock it out. Used over a third of a century ago—for more popular today. This is because it is so wonderfully helpful in relieving neuralgias and pains—sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia, overstrained muscles, stiff joints, weather exposure results. A little is all that is necessary for a cure. Rubbing without rubbing, to the sore spot. No mess, no stained skin. All druggists—35c, 70c, $1.40.

MAKE COMPOST HEAP FOR USE IN GARDEN

Start By Laying Down Bed of Fresh Stable Manure

Organic Rubbish, Decayed Vegetables, Dead Vines, Weeds and Other Truck May Be Used—Size of Plot Necessarily Varies.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Garden waste, decayed vegetables, dead vines, weeds, and the organic rubbish that collects about the place during a busy summer may be cleaned up and put to work again through the agency of a compost heap. Start the heap by laying down a bed of stable manure which has not been burned or heated. The size of the plot will vary with the amount of refuse to be used; for ordinary uses, if the bed is made 3 feet long by 6 feet wide and 2 feet deep it will serve the purpose. Over the manure spread a two-foot layer of refuse and cover it with another layer of manure. This last layer need be only a foot in thickness. Repeat the layers until all the waste has been disposed of and then cover the whole with a layer of earth.

If it is desired to add to the heap from time to time the top layer may be opened and the new material emptied into the hole thus made. This is convenient for the suburban home where there is no animal to consume the kitchen waste. In the spring the heap is well mixed with a fork and the compost is ready to be spread on the garden plot. The heating manure will effectively destroy any weed seed present and will also break down the structure of most of the materials that have been thrown upon the pile. The process may be continued indefinitely by simply adding enough manure to insure heating. Compost is especially valuable for use in hotbeds and coldframes.

DISEASE-FREE SEED CORN TESTS BETTER

Important Results Obtained by Plant Specialists.

Planted Thickly in Hill or Drill Row, Plant Is More Susceptible to Allments Than When Abundance of Space Was Given It.

Seed corn that gave 100 per cent germination but showed infection by harmful organisms was matched against corn that showed no infection in a series of tests carried out by plant specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the Indiana experiment station. The disease-free seed gave an increased yield of 10 to 30 per cent above its competitor.

Further results of the test seemed to prove that when corn was planted too thickly in hill or drill row it was more susceptible to disease than when better space was given it. In a similar test at Bloomington, Ill., the dis-disease-free seed gave an increase of 23 per cent over the other corn, which was selected for high germination only. At Hoopston, Ill., the difference, measured in tons, ranged from 0.01 to 1.5 tons in favor of the seed selected both for high germination and freedom from disease.

The selection was based on the absence of discoloration in the kernels and cobs as indicating soundness. Disease is indicated by brown discoloration at the butts of the ears and at the kernel tips and by decay in the cobs.

THE PRESENT GOOD ENOUGH!

Every so often one hears the expression "Oh for the good old times." But is there anyone who would really welcome "the good old times," with all of its inconveniences? Rather who would like to do without the conveniences that have come with the passing of years?

Take out of the life today the stationary bath tub, the vacuum sweeper, the electric washer, the movie, electric lights, hot water heaters, telephones:

Dispense with the phonographs, automobiles, electric irons, telephones, sanitary plumbing:

Take these things out of life and you get back to what some people refer to as the "good old times."

Is there anyone who really wants this to come about?

Occasionally a cynic declaims against the modern improvements, but he never means it. The modest home of the average middle-class American is infinitely more comfortable than the mansion of those other days called "good old times."

The average housewife, relieved of much of the old drudgery of handwork, has more time for leisure and recreation. Her family has more recreational opportunities.

The new times have their faults, but they are the golden age when contrasted with the "good old times." They cost us more than the good old days" of yore, but aren't they worth the price?—DuBois Courier)

SOME CONCESSIONS FROM THE PENNSY

The agitation for better train service on the Tyrone & Clearfield branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad begun by The Progress more than one year ago and taken up by the Chamber of Commerce and business interests of the different towns along the line last November, has at last resulted in some concessions on the part of the railroad company.

Reference to a news article elsewhere in this issue will denote the extent of that concession. It is the purpose of Supt. Johnston to keep the present express train in service, which will relieve the passenger train of the necessity of carrying express and therefore relieve the weary passenger of the exasperating delay heretofore experienced while the express was being loaded and unloaded at the different stations.

In addition to this improvement the train will start from Tyrone twenty minutes earlier in the morning than under the present schedule, and this, with the gaining of 25 minutes now lost in handling express, will bring the morning train into Clearfield at 10:35 instead of 11:15.

The patrons of the road would have liked very much to have had the additional train asked for, but the railroad people say that is impossible, and we will therefore be required to accept the arrangement in effect March 7th as the best they can do at this time.

For even this small favor we are thankful.

CHAMP CLARK MAY NOT LIVE THRUOUT THE AFTERNOON

Washington, March 1.—The condition of Champ Clark was described as "extremely serious" at his apartments here today. Friends in Congress said he would not live through out the day. Clark has experienced alternating relapses and sinking spells. Yesterday he was reported as much better but his condition took a turn for the worse last night and he is not expected to live through out the day.

THE MYSTERY OF THE BIG IMPORTS OF 1920

The principal factors in the tremendous increase in the imports of the United States in 1920 were sugar, in quantities greater than ever before irrespective of the exceptionally high price; also finished manufactures, of cotton, wool, silk, fibres, wood, iron and steel, and chemicals. Sugar imports, says a statement by the National City Bank of New York, were far in excess of any earlier year—over eight billion pounds against seven billions in the immediate preceding year, and an annual average of five billion pounds during the war period, this 1920 increase being irrespective of the fact that the average cost abroad of the year's imports was 12 1-2c a pound against an average of 5.6c per pound in 1919 and less than 5c per pound in 1918. The total cost abroad of this unusually large importation of sugar at phenomenally high prices was $1,017,163,456 against $394,280,434 for the sugar imported in the former high record year, 1919, the addition to our import record in the single item of sugar having thus been over $600,000,000 in 1920 and accounting for nearly one-half of the phenomenal increase shown in the 1920 imports as a whole.

That there has been a steady and, in fact, rapid growth in the import record of the United States during the entire war period is evident, continues, the bank's statement, from a study of the figures, year by year, but nothing that compares with 1920. The calendar year 1916 showed a gain of $613,000,000 over the immediately preceding year, in 1917 there was a further increase of $561,000,000, in 1919 another gain of $873,000,000, but the calendar year 1920 capped the climax, thus far at least, with an increase of $1,375,000,000 over the immediately preceding year and a grand total more than three times that of the year preceding the war when the total stood at $1,783,000,000 or slightly less than 1-3 of that of 1920.

While sugar, with an increase of $613,000,000 in the value of imports in 1920 as compared with the immediately preceding year, is the biggest factor in this total increase of $1,375,000,000, there are certain other important factors and they are, in practically all cases, finished manufactures chiefly of high grade. In cotton goods alone there was an increase of $85,000,000 as compared with the immediately preceding year; in woolen goods an increase of $38,000,000; silk manufactures an increase of $20,000,000; manufactures of fibres a gain of $58,000,000; lumber an increase of $20,000,000; iron and steel manufactures an increase of $23,000,000; printing paper $25,000,000; wood pulp, $82,000,000; and drugs and chemicals an increase of $85,000,000 when compared with the immediately preceding year.

In fact, nearly all of the unprecedented increase in value of imports in 1920 can be told in two words—"sugar" and "manufactures." There was, to be sure, a considerable increase in certain of the manufacturing requirements—raw cotton, $66,000,000; pig tin, $33,000,000; rubber, $27,000,000; and crude mineral oils, $30,000,000—but the big increase occurred in sugar and finished manufactures, chiefly textiles. In certain other articles, in which we had been expecting an increase, such as diamonds, raw silk, coffee and cocoa, there was a decline in the values imported in 1920, the group "diamonds and precious stones" falling from $105,000,000 in 1919 to $76,000,000 in 1920; coffee, which dropped in price in the second half of the year, showed for 1920 only $252,000,000, against $261,000,000 in 1919; and raw silk, which rapidly declined in price in the second half of the year, showed a total in 1920 of only $235,000,000 against $229,000,000 in 1919. In many important articles which we usually consider as "the leaders" in the manufacturing materials, the figures of 1920 were less in value than in 1919, the group "raw material in manufacturing" showing an increase of only $78,000,000, while the group "manufactures ready for consumption" showed an increase of 75 per cent, aggregating $384,000,000.

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe easily. No more hawking, snuffling, blowing, head-ache, dizziness, struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed-up with a cold or nasty catarrh.

CURWENSVILLE

A number of young folks took advantage of the scant sledding on Saturday, and fearing that it would be their last chance to indulge in that pleasing sport, made up a party of the following and enjoyed themselves hugely: Westley Lansberry, Rudolph Botz, whose home is in New Jersey, Misses Ruth Ogden, Janet Pope, Pearl Ogden, Pearl Dorndetta, Mae Feter, Alma Ogden, Alma Green, Beatrice Nardhood, Dorthea Baer and Anna M. Baer.

Since the Curwensville letter man casually broached the subject of electing two or three women on the school board, the matter has taken deep root in the minds of a good many of our citizens. Understand, we did not intend to speak disparagingly of the gentlemen who now compose the board of that august body, but we believe that since the women have secured the right to vote, they ought to have equal rights in serving in municipal offices as well as the men. But those who are opposed to women holding borough office need lose no sleep over the matter for a while at least, as Director Mullen has informed us that there will be no school directors elected until the November election. So much the better, as it will give plenty of time to pick out the best material in the community to place on the tickets. Already several women have signified their willingness to serve on the school board if elected, and they are ladies of education, intelligence and business sagacity, too.

Last Sunday there were 388 attendants at the Methodist Sunday school. Taking it for granted that the other churches have a number in proportion at the Catholic, Presbyterian, Baptist, Christian, Lutheran and the church of the colored people, we are safe in the assertion that there was over 1,000 persons attended Sunday school. Truly the desire for Bible study is abroad in this community, and may much good be derived from it. May the numbers continue to grow with each Sunday.

It is not so many years ago that two physicians, Drs. Maxwell and Jenkins, attended to the illness of all the people in Curwensville and surrounding country. Now there are five physicians in the town, and all are seemingly kept on the go almost day and night. Of course, our population is larger and different now and then, and that might explain to a certain extent the difference.

Girls do not give the mitten now—because they do not know how to knit.

One of the school teachers, when we were privileged to attend school in the old church building which stood on the corner of Walnut and State streets, wrote this strange but true epigram on the blackboard, no doubt for the benefit of our unruly youngsters: "Happiness is like a pig with its tail greased; every one runs after it, but nobody can hold it." Verily, verily, how true it is.

Not long ago we overheard one of our up-to-date merchants giving one of his clerks the sage advice, and it might be well if all would follow it conclusively: "If you wish to keep your eyes and eyesight unimpaired, close them early at night and open them early in the morning. If you wish to be successful in business, keep your eyes open. There is more profit in being wide awake while other folks are half asleep than there is in cultivating cucumbers."

It is reported that Charles Moose is confined to his home by an attack of diphtheria.

It might possibly interest a few Progress readers to go backward a few years and recall the great political campaign of Grant and Greeley, and also that of Hartranft and Buckalew. It was the campaign of the year 1872. Grant carried 29 of the 37 states, Mr. Greeley succeeding in getting only 29 electoral votes while his opponent, General Grant, captured 277. Clearfield county gave Grant 1,970 votes and Greeley 2,329. The total vote cast for Grant was 349,689, and for Greeley, 211,961; Grant's majority, 137,728. In the contest for the governorship of this state between Hartranft and Buckalew, was also hotly contested, with the result that Hartranft lost out in this county. The vote in the county was Hartranft, 1,995; Buckalew, 8,432, giving the latter a majority of 1437 votes. Curwensville borough gave Grant 73 votes and Greeley 62; Hartranft 80 and Buckalew 65. Black, the temperance candidate, had three votes in Burnside township.

S. J. McKenrick was called to his old home at Carlisle on a summons announcing the death of his brother-in-law, Leonard Yeager.

Editor Progress:

I desire through the medium of your widely circulated paper to correct a malicious falsehood connecting me with a robbery in this town, last year.

The author of this calumny, whose identity I shall not leave a stone unturned to establish, and prosecute to the full extent of the law.

Such a mental degenerate should not be tolerated in any community. He is the lowest type of manhood; the crappings of human scum; a living cancer; an incurable disease, that should be removed from the camp of society with his fellow citizens, and parked where his depraved mind and vicious tongue shall not give its scorpion sting.

To my mind, the defamer and destroyer of character should be in the category, catalogued among the major criminals. The innocent and good and virtuous are as a rule the targets and objects of his attacks. He would de throne morality and erect on its altar the goddess of vice and immorality.

I was born in the above town, and have lived here for over 35 years without an interruption, and at no time have been amenable to the law because of its transgression, but have scrupulously observed and respected and upheld the law, considering it, independent of any punishment annexed, a moral obligation and duty.

I am full aware the intelligent people, amongst whom I have passed my entire life, would not for one moment harbor the thought of any wrong doing of the above nature on my part, but I wish to justify myself and remove every vestige of misunderstanding and false impression created about my character, which I regard as my paramount and chief asset in life's battle, and next to life itself.

Respectfully,
SHERIDAN MALLOY.
